PE 81.785
Or. En.

'The European Parliament,

- A - recalling the provisions of Articles 137 and 155 of the EEC Treaty, and the similar provisions of the other Treaties,
 - B - believing that substantial progress can be made in achieving the goals of the Communities if the powers conferred upon the European Commission are fully used,
 - C - convinced that the full use of the powers conferred upon the Commission and the consequent considerable increase in the political role of the Commission, can take place only in close cooperation with the European Parliament,
1. Instructs its parliamentary committees working closely with the Commission to examine the ways in which the Commission's executive, supervisory and delegated legislative powers have been used in the past and the scope for, and political implications of, extending the uses of these powers and parliamentary control over them;
 2. Requests its Committees to report back to Parliament at its February part-session so that these reports can be considered in conjunction with the debate on the Commission's annual action programme.'
